

As of Tuesday, January 12, 2010, BuffaloNAS accounts that have not updated their status for 60 days may be removed from our servers.

If your NAS device is disconnected from the Internet for more than 60 days, then your BuffaloNAS account may be deleted.

Note that you do not have to use WebAccess for it to be updated. Just having your NAS device connected to the Internet is sufficient to have it update its status regularly and keep your account active.
